RECENT RAINS HELP CITY WATER SITUATION

Recent rains have improved the water situation, according to F. G. Kirchhoff, superintendent of the water and sewers department. No. 1 reservoir this morning has 11½ feet of water in it. No. 2 is full to the brim and No. 4 has 20 feet of water. No. 3 is still being cleaned, or would be if the men could be kept at the work, but they declined Tuesday to work in the rain, and yesterday only half of the gang showed up.

Mr. Kirchhoff says the quality of the water, which so far shows little if any improvement, will get better when No. 1 is filled.

GRAND JURY TO GET VICE DATA AT FIRST HAND

Information on vice conditions in Honolulu, and especially regarding the spread of commercialized vice since the closing of Iwilei, is to be secured first-hand by the territorial grand jury.

The jury, acting upon a charge from Circuit Judge W. H. Heen, already has appointed a committee to investigate vice conditions and it has now been at work for more than a month. Yesterday afternoon, according to the city attorney, a number of women, alleged to be practicing commercialized vice here, were called as witnesses before the jury.

About 10 women, mostly French, testified yesterday, according to the city attorney's office. Many of these women are said to have been among the original 114 denizens of Iwilei who were given suspended sentences when the restricted district was closed, and who have since "reformed." If any indictments were returned yesterday they were not placed on the secret file.

City Attorney A. M. Brown expected to present for investigation the cases of three chauffeurs whose names were mentioned during the recent Kemp trial. Kemp was convicted of a charge of procuring. He forced his wife into the life of the demi monde and secured automobiles to transport her to places where "customers" were waiting.

According to Attorney Brown, this investigation will not be only to ascertain the part the three chauffeurs played in the Kemp matter, but to find out to what extent other chauffeurs are transporting women from one place to another for immoral purposes.

Mr. Brown points out that there can be no denying of the fact that commercialized vice is rampant in Honolulu. Just when the vice committee of the grand jury will be ready to report is not known, but it is expected that its findings will be made public in advance of the annual report, which will be handed down in December.

GOVERNOR PAYS FORMAL VISIT TO CONGRESSMEN

Gov. Lucius Pinkham, accompanied by his military aide, Maj. Francis J. Green, made a formal call upon the congressional party at the Moana Hotel yesterday afternoon.

The long lanai facing the sea had been carefully arranged with chairs and tables for the occasion. Members of the congressional party were introduced to Gov. Pinkham by Maj. Green and Angus E. Ely, secretary to Delegate Kuhio.

LIGHTS NOT RIGHT MOTORISTS FINED

Increased activity on the part of the motorcycle squad resulted in a heavy calendar in police court this morning. Judge Irwin handed down the fines to the offenders, each one of whom drew no less than $5. All arrests were for violating of the ordinance requiring the proper display of lights.

W. W. Chamberlain was arrested for not having a tail light burning. He was represented by Attorney William Rawlins. The defendant was in court some time ago for violating traffic laws, and this was his second offense, for which, if found guilty, he is subject without discretion of the court to a fine of $50. He admitted the tail light was out, but pleaded that it was unintentional. He was given a suspended sentence.

M. Ettinghoff, a 32nd Infantryman, however, was fined $5 because his tail light was not burning, despite his testimony that he visited four garages in an effort to obtain tail light bulbs. The night attendant at the von Hamm Young garage testified that the defendant had asked for bulbs, but that the garage had none in stock.

Four drivers for Love's bakery appeared for not displaying the tail lights in proper positions. Mr. McKenzie, appearing for them, stated that he had been told to place the lights on the trucks where they now were, and that now the court ordered him to put the lights back where the police told him was unlawful. He asked the court who could tell him where the light should be placed, and was advised to consult Bob Lillis. McKenzie said that Lillis told him to put the lights where they were when the drivers were arrested. He paid $20 in fines.

Others arrested and fined $5 each were: M. J. Baptiste, L. M. Fishel, J. H. Martin, E. D. Leno, M. Lowenfield, Maw Hop, J. E. Santos, C. W. Damion (who gave a false name to the police officers and failed to appear in court), C. D. Luce, C. D. Hawkins, A. Nelson, Peter Ho, Charley Yim and S. Katakaoaka.

noon was mostly confined to the first impressions of Hawaii, the experiences on tour and the bathing debuts at Waikiki. Matters of state were discussed only in a casual manner, and Gov. Pinkham departed at 3 o'clock after wishing each and every one of the distinguished visitors a pleasant life in Hawaii.

In the evening many of the members of the party visited the Alexander Young Hotel roof garden. A few remained at the beach in order to catch up on the lack of sleep.

This afternoon the party will return to the governor's call.

Mr. Smith is coming to Honolulu.

FOOD BOARD TO PROBE ADVANCE OF FISH PRICES

Through an investigation similar to the one which resulted in a reduction of the price of milk from 15 to 14 cents a quart, the territorial food commission at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon will begin a probe of the high price and scarcity of fish in the Honolulu markets.

After weeks of worry the commission now has in its possession sufficient information on which to base its investigation. Tomorrow's meeting will be in the form of a public hearing and representatives of fish companies, fishermen, dealers in fish and the public generally are invited to attend. The commission has the power to subpoena witnesses but, as Chairman A. L. Castle declared at the milk investigation, has no intention of resorting to drastic measures unless they are necessitated.

The commission is especially anxious to hear the sides of both fishermen and dealers. Representatives of the fishing companies will also be asked to tell what they know about high prices and the present scarcity of fish. Walter Macfarlane, head of the Hawaii Tuna Packing Co., will be present and will present the side of the cannery. The cannery was recently forced to close down because the fishermen refused to go to sea. This "strike" was promptly squashed by the food commission, which warned the sampan men and fishing companies that legal action would be taken if a settlement was not reached. The settlement was reached the next day.

RUSSIAN DANCER HERE.

Ivan Bankoff, a young Russian dancer, who held the jaded New York public for fifteen weeks at the Winter Garden, expects to open a short engagement in a local theater next week.

Mr. Bankoff, accompanied by Miss Aimee Maynard, arrived in Honolulu yesterday. Miss Maynard is an Australian dancer who has been appearing recently in the States. The Bankoff engagement is being managed by Charles Margolis, who brought the picture "Civilization" to Honolulu.

United States Attorney S. C. Huber returned from a trip to Maui yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fernandes have returned from a four months' trip to the mainland.

Five trucks for the water and sewer department, asked for by Superintendent Kirchhoff two weeks ago, have been ordered purchased. Purchase of the roadsters required by the water department will be deferred.

NOWELL CLAIMS REFUSE DUMPED FROM SEA WALL

In a letter to the territorial board of health, referred today to the harbor board, A. M. Nowell, secretary and manager of the Sugar Factors company, complains against the practice of certain Waikiki residents of dumping refuse into the sea from the sea wall.

Mr. Nowell states that his residence is at 3079 Diamond Head road, and that the currents are such in the vicinity that refuse thrown from the shore for a distance of half a mile to the eastward drifts in and is deposited on his beach.

"This is not only extremely irritating," he says, "but practically unbearable. The perpetrators carry out their plans at high tide, showing the refuse off the sea wall at high tide and the ocean does the rest."

Because of the shallowness of the beach waters at low tide, high tide is the only time that people can enjoy a swim at the Nowell place, the latter adds, and it is at high tide that the refuse nuisance is at its worst.

SECOND LIBERTY LOAN IS HUGE OVERSUBSCRIBED

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—Sales of Liberty Loan Bonds amounted to $4,617,532,300. The total of subscriptions was officially announced by the treasury department last night. Half of the amount of the over subscription will be accepted. The over subscription amounts to $1,617,532,300, and the bond issue will be for $5,999,766,150.

Nine million patriotic citizens helped to make the success of the second Liberty Loan, and the treasury department and the rest of the administration was as much pleased with the great number of individual subscribers as by the vast total of cash that is represented by the subscriptions.

Mayor Fern has received an invitation from Martin Behrman, mayor of New Orleans, to attend the prison convention to be held in the Louisiana city from Nov. 18 to 23, inclusive. The invitation, which included delegates to be named by the mayor, and a substitute for the mayor himself, if his honor could not attend, was read before the Board of Supervisors, who referred it to Palmer Woods for a reply.

JAPANESE BAZAAR

Local Far East Section is Brimming With Wealth of Art Treasures Gathered from China and Japan for Honolulu Stores

FOR visitors or residents of the city, a trip to Honolulu's Oriental quarter day or night, offers not only picturesque interest but genuine commercial value because of the opportunities for shipping such as exist in no other American city.

Here, in the Chinese, Japanese and Korean shops, you may find the clear green jade, the pure soft gold, the silks and satins, the perfumes and spices of the Far East. You will find fans of waving feathers and of fragrant sandal wood; embroideries such as grace the robes of shoguns in Dai Nippon (Japan) or the grave mandarins of Peking, Nanking and Kwanglung. Here are inlaid cabinets of teakwood garnished with shining mother-of-pearl and holding in their dusky recesses the graceful kimonos from the great shops of Kyoto and Osaka, or the glistening silk garments woven by the cunning of patient artisans in the Flowery Kingdom.

A visit to Honolulu's Chinatown is incomplete without a glance at the jewelry stores. Here, day and night, are the skillful workers in gold, jade, silver and precious stones.

With apparent slowness, yet with real speed they labor, and under their deft fingers are fashioned bracelet, earrings, pendants and jeweled combs fit to delight milady in her boudoir and to adorn her for stately formal occasions.

At night, with the streets crowded with Honolulu's ultra-cosmopolitan population, the Oriental shops may be discerned because of the gay and fantastic lanterns floating above their lighted doorways. And there are many visitors who like to see the Chinese chop suey houses, or the Japanese tea houses during an evening of wandering on the search for pretty treasures.

Here is a particularly fine opportunity new for Christmas shopping, with many bargains in rare and artistic things. There are surprises on every hand.

It is educational, also, a trip such as this. It is like an excursion into the fabled lands heretofore visited only in books of travel and description.

There is a little Oriental in Honolulu's midst. And outside the district generally known as "Chinatown" there are scattered small shops well worth inspection.

Just now all these shops are getting ready for the holiday season. They have special stocks of goods of wide variety and attractiveness, and even a casual glance at these stocks will convince the visitor that he has an unusual chance to secure here something for "the folks back home."
